

The captain forwarded the supplier's note about the gyro.

Last March. To the chief.

The chief was on rotation. He read it on a Tuesday. He did not reply.

The thread closed.

Nine months later the gyro fails.

The supplier's note had named the failure mode. The vessel does not have the note.

The captain's email was forwarded. It was never bound to the equipment.

The thread closed. The risk did not.
